PROCEEDINGS IN CONGRESS.

Inter-State Commerce-The Senate Defeats the Amendment Prohibiting Higher Rates for Short Than Long Hauls.

Consideration of the Consular and Diplomatic Bill in the House Brings on Debates Ov Pending Treaties.

THE FORTY-EIGHTH CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 17 .- Mr. Allison presided over the Senate to-day.

A communication from General Sherman to the Secretary of War concering the policy of the Confederate Executive Department was received and laid on the table.

Mr. Frye introduced a bill for encouragement of the American merchant marine and to promote postal and commercial relations with foreign countries.

The Senate then proceeded with the con-Bideration of bills upon the calendar.

INTER-STATE COMMERCE. The Chair laid betere the Senate the In-2er State Commerce bill, and after a long tlet ate Mr. Slater's amendment prohibiting higher rates for short than for longer hauls was defeated-yeas; 11; nays, 32-as follows: Yeas--Camden, Cockrell, Coke, Fair, Kenna, Maxey, Slater, Vance, Van Wyck, Vest, Voorhees-11.

Nays-Allison, Brown, Butler, Cameron of Pennsylvania, Cameron of Wisconsin, Conger, Cullum, Dolph, Frye, Gorman, Hale, Harris, Harrison, Hawley, Hoar, Ingalls, Jackson, Jonas, Lapham, Manderson, Mitcherl, Morgan, Morrill. Pike, Platt, Pugh, Ransom, Sawyer, Sheffield, Sherman, Walker. Wilson-32.

The amendment proposed by Mr. Allison was agreed to-22 year to 20 nays-increasing the number of commissioners from five 20 nine, and amending a later provision so as to require that not more than five of them shall belong to one political party. The smendment also provides that commission. ers shall be selected from each of the nine | him think the world was his own, he started on a Judicial Districts of the United States.

Mr. Back, in the course of some remarks, referred to the Se ate bill as a "thing." He expected, he said, to vote for a good deal that was in the Reagan bill whenever it should be brought beford the Senate, but regarded the Senate bill as nothing, and he did not care to talk about it. Amendment offered by Mr. Pugh was agreed to, limiting the powers of the commission to powers specifically given by the

The House bill was by unanimous consent taken from the calendar, and Mr. Cullom moved to amend it by striking out all after the enacting clause and inserting the provisions of the Senate bill.

On this motion Mr. Vest called for the yeas and nays, and pending action the Senate adjourned.

The douse.

Mr. Gibson, rising to a personal explanation, denied that he had harshly criticised Mr. Randall at the recent Wheeler confernce. He differed from the gentleman named, but respected his capacity and integrity.

Mr. Hopkins, from the Committee on Labor, reported a resolution directing the Postmaster General to ask the Attorney General whether the eight-hour law applies to letter carriers. Adopted.

The House went into Committee of the Whole on the Consular and Diplomatic Appropriation bill, Mr. Townshend offered an amendment requesting the President to invite the cooperation of the governments of American nations in securing the establishment of a commercial league by and between said nations, to be known as the 'Customs Union of America." Ruled out on a point of order.

Mr. Cox, of New York, was sorry that the amendment had been ruled out. The remedy for the present depression was reciprocity with republics of our own hemisphere. Congress should make a market abroad for the surplus products of the country.

RECIPROCITY TREATIES. Mr. Dersheimer favored reciprocity, not with American countries alone, but with the whole world. He approved the proposed treaties with Mexico, Spain and Nicaragua. He did not believe it would be possible that a canal should be built through the Isthmus of Panama by any foreign government without giving this people (to use a most temperate phrase) cause for serious disquietude. How would it be when the fleets of some foreign power had a direct way opened to the Pacific Coast, while our fleets were compelled to make a long jourmey around Cape Horn? Under such circumstances, in some possible exigency of the future, the people of the United States would not permit that highway to remain in foreign hands, but would take it into their own by the exercise of all the power they possessed. Mr. Hiscock said the country understood the policy of the next administration to be that this country should be purely an agricultural country. Expecting this issue was no be presented to the people, the country heard notes from Pittsburg of the failure of s great iron industry. News came from New York of the insolvency of a banking institution. He was not a prophet, but he had no hesitation in declaring that before this Congress adjourned, from other manufacturing and business centers would come announcements of distress and failure, all precipitated by the agitation that was threatening the country on the part of the next administration. Referring to the pending treaties, he asked his colleague (Dorsheimer) what the United States would have to sell provided these were ratified. The United States had nothing to take to sell on the markets of South America unless it could compete with England, and to do so it must propose to degrade labor. Did his colleague propose to degrade labor down to a point that it could compete with foreign labor?

Mr. Cox. of New York, contended that the Democratic party was misrepresented by his colleague (Hiscock) when he said the incoming administration was in favor of making this country a purely agricultural country. The Republican party, after many years of protection, had come forward all at once with a lot of reciprocal treaties-free trade treaties.

"I beg pardon," interrupted Mr. Hiscock,
"not the Republican party."
"Well, at least a Republican administrazien," replied Mr. Cox.
Continuing, Mr. Cox denied that the distress which now prevails in the country was attributed to Democratic success. The Republican party was responsible for that hotbed growth which gave the country a surplus production, and said it was that very man that did the most to cook up our last authorized his colleagues to speak for Grover C.eweland? When it came to reciprocity, the Democratic party would do by the Nations of this hemisphere what the fathers of the Republic had so wisely done between

Mr. Reed said the United States paid $1.60 for every dollar competing nations paid for labor. The United States could only compete by taking the sixty cents from the laboring man. Did the gentleman from New York dare avow that was his purpose?

Mr. Dorsheimer denied that the prevailing depression was because of apprehension of the effects of a Democratic administration. Did the failures of 1873 grow out of the apprehension of a Democratic administration? Did the disasters last April and May come of such apprehension? Was there any man in this country who ate less, wore less, used less than he would have done had Grover Cleveland not been elected? It was perfectly clear what the reason of the present disasters was. It was the result of a Republican administration which had taken $900,000,000 a year more than was necessary out of the peckets of the people.

Mr. Hiscock said when the people made the mistake of electing this Congress by which tariff agitation began, then failures increased, and this was the sole cause of the distress the past year. The only hope of the country the next four years would be found in certain Democrate still standing by the industries of the Nation.

Mr. Converse said the House had heard from only one wing of the Republicen party, and that did not appear to be the administration wing of the party. It had not heard from gentlemen who represented the President or Secretary McCulloch. Gentlemen on the other side had not correctly stated the position of the Democratic party. The entire party was in favor of a reduction in taxation. It was in favor of an administrative reform. The platform of the party looked to reform. It looked to stopping attempts to carry elections by means of "bulldogs." It meant honest government and honest elections, North as well as South.

The committee rose and the bill passed. Mr. Willis reported the river and harbor appropriation bill. Ordered printed and re-Adjourned.

SENTINEL SPECIALS.

Sent up for Two Years. Special to the Sentinel.

LAFAYETTE, Jan. 17 .- Ed Beauchamp, a noted thief and pickpocket, dropped into town Thursday, and at once proceeded to make himself at home. After having taken enough drinks to make tour of inspection. He dropped into the boarding house of Mrs. Walters, on Market Space, and lounging about got his eye fastened on the overcoat of ex-Chief of Fire Department Gallager, and carried it off while the latter went to take supper. Master Beauchamp was next given lodgings at the County Jail for disorderly conduct. In the meantime Mr. Gallager missed his overcoat, and having seen Beauchamp, started on a wild goose chase after the man with the overcoat. Learning he had taken rooms at Sheriff Manning's hotel, he at once proceeded there and demanded his property. But Beauchamp was not ready to see him, having taken a nap Gallager recovered his coat, and at once filed an affidavit against Beauchamp, who was taken before Judge Vinton and fined $1 and costs and sent up to the Penitentiary for two years. Beauchamp, whose home is in this city, where he has some very prominent relatives, is known as an old burglar and pickpocket, and city folks are glad to be rid of him for some time.

Railway Travel Very Difficult.

Special to the Sentinel. WABASH, Ind., Jan. 17 .- Freight traffic on the railroad lines throughout this section is practically at a standstill. The Wabash Road is sending but one train East, and the Cincinnati, Wabash and Michigan one North. On the Northern Division of the latter line freight trains are all abandoned, and passenger trains are many hours late, and get through with great difficulty. The Chicago and Atlantic trains are snowbound at two or three points, but the passenger traffic, though seriously interfered with, is not suspended. To-night the temperature is below zero and still falling, and more trouble is apprehended by railway officials.

Died Suddenly-A Child Drops Dead.

Special to the Sentinel. GREENFIELD, Ind., Jan. 17.-Business circles were surprised to-day over the announcement that John Crider, of the firm of Knight & Crider, died suddenly last night. He was in apparently his usual health and gave no evidence of sickness. Dr. Justice, Coroner, to-day returned a verdict that he died of heart disease.

A few days ago the little child of Charles Ostermeler left the table, and while passing from the dining to the sitting room fell dead. It is thought it was choked by something it attempted #### make it by far the largest in the State. The Salem Suicide.

Special to the Sentinel. SALEM, Ind., Jan, 17 .- The young man that committed suicide here last night, an account of which was published in this morning's Sentinel, was a nephew of the late Hon. John I. Morrison. It seems he has been quite unwell for two weeks past. While there might be a possibility of its being an accident, the general impression is as stated, that it was a spicide.

COLFAX'S FUNERAL.

The Weather Very Unfavorable-Vice President Elect Hendricks, Governors Gray and Porter's Train Did not Arrive Till 6 O'clock.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Jan, 17 .- The Colfax obsequies took place this afternoon under the most unfavorable circumstances. The weather was the worst of the winter. Gusty and snowy in the forenoon, and in the afternoon the mercury ran down to zero. All trains were delayed several hours, and that containing Vice President-elect Hendricks, Governors Gray and Porter, and other notables from the south did not reach here until after 6 o'clock to-night. The hour of the funeral was fixed at 10 o'clock and was changed to 3. During the forenoon the body lay in state at the residence and was visited by thousands of people. The service at the Reform Church consisted of a prayer by W. H. Hickman and a discourse by Rev. N. P. Williamson, Mr. Coliax's pastor. At the close of the service the casket containing the remains and draped with the American flag was borne from the church to the funeral car by the following gentlemen: Messrs. James Oliver and Clem lowing gentlemen: Messrs. James Oliver and Clem Studabaker, representing the city of South Bend: Messrs. Theo P. Haughey and Thomas Underwood, representing the Grand Lodge and Grand Encampment of the State: Hon. Marcus McClelland, of Valparaiso, representing the State Legislature: Mr. Joshua D. Miller, representing South Bend Lodge, No 29, L. O. O. F. The procession, a very long one, wended its way to the city cemetery, and at 5:30 o'clock the body was placed in the

GENERAL FOREIGN NEWS.

Camels and Men Suffer From Drought on the March to Gakdul.

Lendon, Jan. 17 .- A dispatch from Gakdul says: Thirty camels dropped dead on the march from Howelatt, and the troops suffered severely. The majority of the water skins leaked, and the men vielding to their thirst, exhausted their rations of water prematurely. Very few fell out of line. and the condition of the men under the circumstances was splendid. All bore their hardships bravely, as was evinced by their singing a cheerily as their perched throats would permit. They are keenly desirous of a fight.

Rumpff's Assassin Arrested at Brussels, It Is Claimed,

LONDON, Jan. 17 .- A special from Brussels gives the following account of the arrest of a German traveler in that city, for supposed complicity in the murder of Herr Rumpff: The police authorities of this city claim to have made an important arrest in connection with the assassination of Police Commissioner Rumpif, at Frankforton-the-Main. They are reticent concerning the prisoner, but state he arrived at Antwerp yesterday, from Germany. He immediately took a train for this city, and was arrested on his arrival last evening. From other sources it is learned that at the proper time evidence will be forthcoming to show that the prisoner is the man who drove the dagger in the murdered man's body. Detectives at Frankfort-on-the-Main, after finding the dagger, traced 'ts owner, and the arrest here last evening is said to have been made on the telegram from the German police, who were so close on the heels of the assassin that he fled to Antwerp, and thence to Brussels, hoping to escape.

Heavy Snow Storms and More Earthquakes Combine to Harass the Spanjards.

Madrid, Jan. 17. - Another severe shock of earthquake was experienced at Granada, at 10 last night, causing great alarm among the inhabitants, King Alfonso is visiting Velez to-day. The heavy snow storm and frost continue. In Malaga the most severe snow storm since 1861 prevails. The sugar cane crop is destroyed, and orange and olive groves damaged. The situation is most critical. The earth is again trembling under the influence of strong seismic movements. The wind and snow destroyed the huts of those who fled to the open fields from cities and towns for safety. At Frigilians, twenty-seven miles east of Malaga, the people, rendered desperate by cold and hun-ger, attacked the houses of the land owners. Another severe shock of earthquake was expe rienced at Canillas.

Henry George and Others Address 10,000 People in London.

LONDON, Jan. 17 .- In accordance with previous announcement, a mass meeting of unemplyed workingmen was held in front of the Royal Ex change this afternoon. Shortly after noon the people began to assemble, and by 3 o'clock fully 10,000 had come together. The multitude in per fect order awaited the arrival of the principal speakers, Henry George, Helen Taylor, William Saunders, and other well-known Radicals, who were loudly cheered. The speaking began at a little past 2, Radical pamphlets of the most advanced description had an immense sale. Some of these were headed in bold type with the words, "Blood, Bullets and Bayonets," and presented an extraordinary "appeal to the balf-starved, herring-gutted, poverty stricken, parish damned inhabitants of the dis-

Collision of the Dublin Packet and American Ship Santa Clara.

LIVERPOOL, Jan. 17.-The fears entertained yesterday for the safety of the packet steamer, Admiral Moorson, plying between Dublin and Holyhead, were fully justified. The steamer collided with the American ship Santa Clara, from Liverpool for New York, and sank. The Santa Clara anded twelve of the sunken steamer's crew and two passengers at Holyhead. The steamer carried a crew of between twenty and thirty persons.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—Later accounts from Holyhead state that the Admiral Moorson had eleven passengers and only two of them were saved.

Egyptian Counter Proposals.

LONDON, Jan. 17 .- The counter proposais made by the powers for the settlement of the finances of Egypt demand that an inquiry, under their control, be instituted in Egypt, with the object of ascertaining the resources of that country, and determining whether the sacrifice which the holders of Egyptian bonds have been asked to make, will be reimbursed or made permanent. The proposals also demand that all coupons be provisional ly taxed. The counter proposals were presented to the British Foreign Secretary (Granville) by the French Ambassador.

Reasons for America Participating. BERLIN, Jan. 17.-In the Congo Conference three reasons were given for the participation of America in the deliberations; firstly, because America was the first power to officially recognize the African International Association; secondly, because the population of America comprises 6,000,000 negroes whose parent country is Africa; and, thirdly, be cause Americans mainly have explored the Long Standing Controversy Settled. BRUSSELS, Jan. 17 .- Mgr. Dumont denounces all claim upon the dioceasan treasury of Turnay. This action presumably has sett led a long standing controversy, which has occupied a large share of attention in the Belgian courts for years, and has been the subject of considerable litigation in Canada and the United States.

France's Tripartite Alliance. BERLIN, Jan. 17 .- The Berlin National Gazette publishes a statement to the effect that Germany, Austria and Russia have joined France in its attitude upon the question of the settlement of the Egyptian financial difficulties.

Erie Defaults on the Payment of Interest. BUFFALO, N. Y., Jan. 17 .- Erie has defaulted on the interest due the holders of the bonds of the road, since leased by the narrow gauge system. It is uncertain when they will be paid. The question of what shall be done is being debated, but no satisfactory conclusion can be reached. If the narrow gauge antagonizes the Erle by taking the matter into the courts, they fear that the Erie freight, upon which they are dependent, will be diverted from their lines. They are, therefore, waiting in hopes that when President King has completed his work of re-organization, some satisfactory means will be provided for paying the bond holders.

Farmer Murdered by a Farm Hand. SHARON, Pa., Jan. 17 .- Near Middlesex, five miles from this place, isst night, James Kirch, a wealthy farmer, was murdered by his farm hand, James Hilands. The two had quarreled early in the day, but were parted, and Hilands went away. In the evening ne returned, and, entering the bouse, struck Kirsch between the neck and right shoulder with an ax, severing the jugular vein and killing him aimost instantly. Hilands then went to bed and was arrested this morning.
